

Navigation Instructions:

- An “Enter Site” button located on the home page links to the introduction.
- At the bottom of every page are buttons which lead to the next or prior page in the website.
- Some documents and maps have a zoom feature, where one can scroll to zoom when hovering over the image or click the full-screen button for a better view. To exit full screen view, click the minimize button in the upper right hand corner. Not all images feature full screen view. One may also click-and-drag on the image to view different sections of the document or map.
- Pages with subtabs have images with links to the different subtabs. For example, the “Encountering Restraints” page has four different images or buttons linked to the different restrictive laws.
- If an image is not located in the header or does not have the zoom feature, you may click on it to enlarge it.
